Venice, January 21.

ON Monday laſt fell ſo deep a Snow in theſe Parts, that it has retarded the coming in of the Poſts this Week. A Company of 60 Bombardiers, with their Officers, are arrived from Treviſa; and they are to be ſent to the Levant with the firſt Tranſports, which will be ready to ſail in a Fortnight. Several Ships are arrived in this Port from England, with Herrings, Lead and Sugar. This Evening a Courier paſſed through this City, in his Way from Vienna to Rome.

Copenhagen, Jan. 22. On the 19th Inſtant arrived three Mails from Norway. The Letters adviſe, that about 40 Ships laden with Goods put to Sea from thence a little before Chriſtmas, bound hither: Several of theſe Ships had come from Iſeland, and ſome were laden for the King's Account with Stores for the Service of the Fleet. As we have not heard yet of any of theſe Veſſels, 'tis feared they were loſt in the late great Storm. By theſe Advices we learn, that a Daniſh Frigate named the Loors was wrecked on the Coaſt of Norway, and forty Men of her Crew drowned. The Daniſh Army in Norway was reckoned to be ſtrong enough to defend the Country from any Attempts of the Swedes: Deſerters from the Swediſh Army reported, that there was ſo great a Scarcity of Proviſions in Schonen and other Parts of Sweden, that it was very difficult to ſubſiſt the Troops. The Tranſports laden with Meal for our Army in Norway, ſailed from hence on the 11th Inſtant. This Court has cauſed Inſtances to be made to the King of Pruſſia, that all Commere between his Majeſty's Ports in Pruſſia and thoſe of Sweden may be prohibited, that the Enemy may not be ſupplied with Proviſions. The Princeſs Charlotta Amelia, his Daniſh Majeſty's only Daughter, is fallen ill of the Small Pox.

Dreſden, Jan. 26. On the 18th Inſtant Count Wackerbaert arrived here from Vienna. On the 23d the States of this Electorate aſſembled in an Hall of the Caſtle here fitted up for the Occaſion: The King accompanied by his Miniſters and Officers and by a great Number of the Nobility, went to the Aſſembly; and being ſeated on his Throne, Count Werthern, the Chancellour, made a Speech, ſetting forth in general the State of his Majeſty's Affairs ſince the Year 1716, and eſpecially with Reſpect to this Electorate; urging the Neceſſity of continuing the Subſidies which were granted for a Time now near expiring, and of augmenting them for certain Services; Eſtimates of which were delivered in Writing and read by a Secretary. M. Loeſer, Hereditary Marſhal of this Electorate, made the uſual Compliments to his Majeſty on the Part of the States, and then his Majeſty retired to his own Apartment.

Vienna, Jan. 26. The Duke of Guaſtalla has at laſt obtained ſome Satisfaction upon his Pretenſions to the Dutchy of Mantua, and the Emperour has given that Duke's Miniſter the Inveſtiture of that Part of that Country which lies between the Po and the Oglio; in Conſideration of which he has renounced his Claim to the Capital City and the reſt of the Dutchy. The Marqueſs de Ruby, late Viceroy of Sardignia, is arrived here from Milan, with General Zum-
